Middle East Crisis

Due to the ongoing conflict in the Middle East, Air Mauritius is actively monitoring developments and assessing their potential impact on our operations.

While multiple airspace restrictions are currently in place across the Middle East region, our approved routes to and from Europe remain fully operational and unaffected.

Alternative contingency routings are in place and can be activated if required.

The safety and security of our passengers and team members remain our top priority.

Air Mauritius will continue to closely monitor this unprecedented situation and take all necessary measures to ensure safe travel.
