Flight Schedule Adjustments from 1st to 4th of August 2025

Due to the extended maintenance work on the Airbus A330-900neo 3B-NBV – Chagos Archipelago – at Sabena Technics in Bordeaux, Air Mauritius is currently rescheduling certain flights, initially planned between 1st and 4th of August 2025.

The main changes concern four destinations, namely Paris (CDG), London (LGW), Kuala Lumpur (KUL) and Johannesburg (JNB) – see details below.

Air Mauritius passengers who already have bookings on these routes during this period have already been contacted by the Air Mauritius Call Centre. Those who wish to receive updates on their mobile phones are invited to visit the Search - Flight Schedule Changes page on the Air Mauritius website, where they will find an application that allows them to get information about their rescheduled flight. They simply need to enter their original flight number into this mobile-friendly application, and the details of the new flight will be displayed immediately.

To recall, the Airbus A330-900neo 3B-NBV, which was undergoing a C-Check at Sabena Technics, sustained damage during the tornado that struck Bordeaux on Friday 13th of June. Airbus assessors have recommended repairs that will extend the originally planned maintenance schedule.

In addition, an engine change was already scheduled on one of the Airbus A350-900 aircraft, namely the Mauritius Kestrel registered 3B-NCE, and flight rescheduling was necessary to mitigate the combined impact of these factors.

Air Mauritius apologises for any inconvenience which may arise due to this flight rescheduling.
